A WET AND DRY ELECTION

SEDALIA IS EXPERIENCING IT TO THE FULLEST EXTENT TODAY.

RAIN FALLEN SINCE LAST NIGHT

This Fact Has Probably Kept Some of the More Timid From the Polls —Election News From Other Cities.

Sedalia is having a remarkably quiet election today. Rain began falling at 9:30 o'clock last night and has continued almost without interruption since, in consequence of which the usual crowds that congregate around the polls in fair weather are conspicuous by their absence.

Up to the noon hour a light vote had been cast in all of the wards. In the first ward very few negroes had voted, and this caused considerable uneasiness upon the part of republican workers.

At 2:30 o'clock the votes cast in the four wards were as follows:

First ward, 401. The total vote for mayor two years ago was 842.

Second ward, 201. The total vote for mayor two years ago was 459.

Third ward, 446. The total vote for mayor two years ago was 802.

Fourth ward, 532. The total vote for mayor two years ago was 860.

Democrats are feeling greatly encouraged this afternoon, but an election is never over until the polls are closed, and at this hour it would not be safe to predict any one's election. The Democrat-Sentinel's advice to the democratic candidates and workers is to keep busy, even busier than they were earlier in the day, until 6:30 p. m., at which hour the election will be a thing of the past and either Mr. Mellor or Mr. Babcock will be the mayor-elect of Sedalia.

Heavy Vote at St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 7.—Notwithstanding the rain, a heavy vote is being cast today, and both parties claim victory.

Prohibition in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., April 7.—Municipal elections are being held in all the cities and towns of Nebraska except Omaha.

The principal issue is prohibition. Seventy per cent of the counties of the state are claimed by the prohibitionists.

Liquor Is the Issue.

Chicago, April 7.—The city election today is confined entirely to the alderman's contest in the various wards.

Throughout Illinois a number of elections are being held. In most cases in the state prohibition is the main issue.

Saloon Men Got All Vehicles.

St. Louis, April 7.—Despite a drizzling rain, the women turned out today, armed with coffee and sandwiches, to take an active part in the balloting on the local option question in the adjoining towns in Illinois, across the river from St. Louis.

In Alton the saloon men hit all the livery stable vehicles, but the women offered their family carriages.

Interest in Kansas City.

Kansas City, April 7.—Despite the steady downpour of rain an exceedingly heavy vote was cast during the early hours of the municipal election here. The interest is intense.

A complete city ticket and twenty-one members of the council are to be elected.

Mayor Henry M. Beardsley is the republican candidate for re-election, while Thomas T. Crittenden, jr., son of ex-Governor Crittenden, of Missouri, heads the democratic ticket. Both sides claim victory.

"TOM" BLACK IS TO WED

Will Lead a Dallas Lady to the Altar
April 20th.

Thomas P. Black, son of Conductor and Mrs. Harry H. Black, of this city, is to be married at Dallas, Texas, the 20th inst.

"Tom," as he is best known, was reared in Sedalia, and was graduated from the High school here. He has been away from Sedalia for several years, but his success in the business world is known to his legion of friends, who will extend congratulations in anticipation of the happy event.

The Democrat-Sentinel acknowledges receipt of the following card: Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Nelms will give in marriage their daughter, Hazel Frances, to Mr. Thomas Porter Black, on the evening of Monday, April 20, 1908, at 7 o'clock, St. Matthew's Cathedral, Dallas, Texas. The honor of your presence is requested.

Guilty of Granting Rebates.

New York, April 7.—The Great Northern Railway company was convicted of granting rebates to the American Sugar Refining company in the United States circuit court here today.

IT PLUNGED TO GROUND

CAR ON THE ELEVATED RAIL-ROAD OF CHICAGO DID THIS MORNING.

EIGHT PERSONS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Nearly a Score of Others Were More or Less Injured—There Were 50 People in the Car When it Leaped From Structure.

Chicago, April 7.—Eight persons were seriously and probably fatally injured and nearly a score of others more or less seriously hurt today when a combined motor and smoking car of a train on the South Side elevated railway left the track and crashed forty feet to the ground. The motorman of the car, George Stang, had his skull fractured and was also injured internally. There were fifty people in the car when the accident happened, and all of them were injured.

The train was moving rapidly, when the front trucks of the car jumped the track. The car bumped along the rails for a short distance and then plunged off the elevated structure to the ground below. A panic followed in the four rear cars and a number of men raised the windows and leaped out.

Ambulances and patrol wagons which hurried to the scene found the passengers in the motor car still penned in and struggling frantically to make their escape. The imprisoned passengers were dragged through the shattered windows and carried to nearby residences, the more seriously injured being taken to hospitals.

The accident was due to a casting dropping on the track and acting as a lever, thus raising the trucks above the structure and the impact of the moving train shoved the car off the structure and it fell to the ground.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

On the Stanley Farm, North of the City, This Forenoon.

A large barn on the farm of R. A. Stanley, one mile north of the city, was struck by lightning during the forenoon, but fortunately it was only slightly damaged.

Mr. I. D. Miller, manager of the place, was in the barn at the time, and was severely shocked, but escaped injury.

Also in the barn were six head of horses and ten cows, but not one of the animals was injured. The barn did not take fire and the only damage was on the side of the structure where the bolt struck.

WILL HAVE PLENTY FRUIT

Unless It Is Killed by Frost or Freeze
Later Along.

George H. Shepherd, the Lamonte nursery man and fruit grower, says after a careful examination of his fruit trees he finds that from one-fourth to one-third of the peach buds are killed.

Some of the plums are killed, but enough remain for a good crop.

Pears and apples are not injured, nor any of the small fruit or berries.

Without frost and freezing weather in the future, Mr. Shepherd predicts a good yield of all kinds of fruit.

Mr. Beyeler Is Up Again.

Otto Beyeler, who has been quite ill at his home, Missouri avenue and Henry street, with biliousness, is able to be up and around today.

GOULDS ACCEPT "HELIE"

IS SAID TO BE THE PRIZE RAKE OF THE PARIS TENDER-LOIN DISTRICT.

CAREER OF AMAZING DEBAUCHERY

The Arch Dissembler Fanned Flame
of the Countess' Hate for Boni, With Greedy Eye for Her Millions.

Paris, April 7.—News that the Gould family practically has acceded to the pleas of Prince Helie de Sagan for the hand of Mme. Anna Gould, has confirmed the opinion of local society that the engagement will be formally announced here shortly after Easter.

So, after all, it is to be off with the old rake and on with the new! All Paris is a-titter. It is "that grand joke."

Count Boni de Castellane was pretty bad. But compared to Prince de Sagan he is a cherub with wings only a-sprout.

Castellane was never more than a pupil of the prince, his cousin and leader in wickedness. His extravagance was that of a novice compared to that of de Sagan. His life was a copy of that of his kinsman, but it was such a pusillanimous copy at that.

His Dinners Famous.

Since the days of the Caesars, of whom the old Latin historian, Suetonius wrote so vividly, there has been few of such mental and emotional activity, with so many ingenious quips and quirks of vice, as de Sagan. He is a past master in all the word conveys.

Some of the little dinners, with which the prince was wont in the old days to shock even Paris, were quite as bad as the unspeakable feasts in which Tiberius delighted in his ancient dining hall, the Octagon, Cenaculum. They were really startling in their originality.

One of these affairs, to which he invited the most flagrant rakes of the gay capital and an assortment of feminine beauty, culled from the leading demimonde, aptly illustrated his peculiar ability for this sort of thing.

Despite the outre dishes and rare wines, the feast had reached a stage where, to prevent a lapsing into the commonplace of vice, some diversification was imperative. Then suddenly, without a word of warning, the lights went out.

Helie as Satan.

The feminine shrieks were stifled by a momentary expectation when a red glow appeared at one end of the room. From out this glow danced de Sagan, clad in the red fleshings of Satan, picking his way amid the exkinding flames and shoveling gleaming coals upon the heads of his guests. This was but a mild sample of his escapades.

He has gone through two fortunes, left him by his two grandfathers. At one time he maintained twelve establishments in Paris. His love affairs run into the scores. His life, for pure devilry, for imaginative viciousness and unscrupulous machinations to get money, is unexampled in Paris since the days of the Grand Monarch. He is no longer capable of love. He is merely a Don Juan of dissipation.

For years he has been without a visible means of support. He has been openly accused of being a card sharp. His name was coupled with the forgeries of notes in the name of Max Lebaudy, the millionaire sugar king. In the suit brought by him against his cousins, the Castellanes, for assaulting him, Count Boni openly charged that he derived his finances from certain women of Paris.

Fought 100 Duels.

Altogether it is said he has fought a hundred duels. Eight of them at least were with men of prominence in Paris. One was with Prince Geo. Stourdza, whom he first slapped one night in the lobby of the opera house and later wounded.

At another time he pummeled Maître Barbox, the lawyer, for having declared that the beautiful Madame de Gast, with whom at the time the prince was engaged, had posed in the nude for Gervey's famous picture, "The Woman in the Mask." Barbox had him arrested and fined $100 in the police court, but ignored his challenge.

Following the recent encounter with de Castellane, the latter declared there would be no duel as a result of it, as "nowadays Prince de Sagan can find no seconds to represent him." There was no duel.

De Sagan several years ago denounced Prince de Chalais, who married Miss Beatrice Winans, of Baltimore, as an imposter, claiming the title for himself. Later he challenged the prince, who declared de Sagan beneath his notice. The prince still bears the title.

In the height of his career de Sagan added spice to his existence by hunting up provocations for issuing a challenge. When the excitement of other pleasures palled, he would, if necessary, deliberately give the insult to invite a challenge. In recent

ACTOR CO-RESPONDENT

HOWARD GOULD NAMES DUSTIN FARNUM IN ANSWER TO WIFE'S PETITION.

INTOXICATION IS ALSO CHARGED

Amazing Document Filed in New York Alleges Ex-Actress Behaved Scandalously in Public Places.

New York, April 7.—Howard Gould's answer to the suit of his wife, Katherine Clemmons Gould, for a separation and alimony, which was filed in the supreme court last afternoon, forms the most amazing document that has ever figured in a divorce trial in New York City.

For the first time the name of Dustin Farnum, the actor, is brought forward as co-respondent. In addition, Mr. Gould declares that his wife was grossly intoxicated at many public places on many occasions; that she consumed daily enough mixed drinks to put several strong men out of business; that at theaters, restaurants and hotels she repeatedly behaved in a scandalous manner while under the influence of cocktails, highballs and champagne; that she once broke up a fashionable card party by biting her hostess on the arm, and that she shocked a wedding party at St. Thomas church by announcing that she saw "many old cats" present.

Mr. Gould's lawyers accused Katherine Clemmons Gould, the ex-actress, with having secretly met Farnum in the summer of 1906. Specific instances are cited of alleged meetings between Farnum and Mrs. Gould. On one occasion, at Atlantic City, she is charged with having registered at a hotel under an assumed name as his wife.

HE MISSED HIS "SMILE"

Overlooked the Fact That It Was Election Day Here.

An Ohio street business man who is an exemplary church member, but who always indulges in a mid-forenoon lunch at Pehl's, at his usual hour this morning raised his umbrella and proceeded to that popular resort.

He went to the corner door, but found it closed. He then went to the front door, and after finding that entrance bolted also, he stepped back and viewing the front for a notice, said, with a good deal of surprise, "Why, has Pete made an assignment?"

He was admonished by some one near that it was election day.

"Well," he said, "I am powerful glad that we don't have elections every day," and he went straight to his ward and voted.

TEAM RAN AWAY TWICE

Was a Lucky Runaway, if Such Things Can Be Lucky.

One of Mayor Collins' teams, hitched to a "democratic carriage," took fright on West Fifth street this morning, caused by the tongue of the carriage sliding back under the bed of the cab. The team ran to Fifth street and Grand avenue and into the yard of G. A. Sturges, where it collided with a tree. There was no damage.

Immediately after the driver was again seated on the cab the team decided to run again, and started north on Grand avenue, running to a point four blocks north of the tracks, where it was stopped before any damage was done.

MINERS' STRIKE UNSETTLED

Operators of Southwest Field Want Three-Year Contract From Union.

Kansas City, Mo., April 7.—The prospects of a settlement of the strike of the 35,000 coal miners in the Missouri-Kansas district was put off today when the operators declared positively that they would not sign a one year scale, and asked the miners to abrogate the action of the United Mine Workers convention at

Indianapolis, which voted for a one-year contract and to sign for three years, insisting that they could not operate with profit on short time contracts.

The conference is not ended, however, and it is hoped that the arrival of President Lewis tomorrow may bring both sides together.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—The conference of coal miners and operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois adjourned today. No resumption was ordered and another meeting will be held in Toledo next Tuesday. President Lewis immediately left for Kansas City to take part in a conference of the Southwest field.

WAS ALMOST LYNCHING

POLICE RESCUE IDENTIFIED ASSAILANT WITH AN AUTOMOBILE.

A LITTLE GIRL WAS HIS VICTIM

Large Crowd Collected, and There Were Cries of "Lynch Him," "Get a Rope," Etc., but Rescued
By the Officers.

St. Louis, April 7.—Identified as the assailant of 13-year-old Edna Devlin, Anthony End, aged 22, was saved from lynching here yesterday only by heroic efforts on the part of the police.

A brother of the girl had captured End on a street car at Belt and St. Louis avenue, a residence section of the city, and with the aid of two friends dragged him from the car. One of the captors telephoned the police and then forced End to accompany them to the Devlin home, followed by a crowd that grew larger every minute.

Cries of "Lynch him," "Get a rope," became insistent, and a struggle took place for the possession of the man.

The girl's brother stayed them until the police, with their clubs, forced their way to the prisoner.

End was lifted into an automobile and taken to jail.

DEATH OF MRS. SALLIE SHY

One of the Best Known Residents of Pettis and Cooper Counties.

Mrs. Sallie R. Shy, one of the oldest residents of Pettis and Cooper counties and mother of John T. and C. C. Shy, of this city, died of general debility at her home at Clifton City at 10:30 o'clock this morning, aged over 89 years.

She was a member of the Baptist church and made her home alternately here and at Clifton City, near where another son, James T., resides.

The remains will be brought here and funeral services will be conducted at Bethlehem church, six miles south of Sedalia, at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Burial will be made by the side of her husband in that vicinity.

KILLED BY ELECTRIC GLOBE

Boilermaker Dies With Light Grasped in His Hand.

Chillicothe, O., April 7.—James Ryan, a boilermaker employed at Marfield's mill, was handed an electric globe yesterday by a helper.

When Ryan grasped the globe the helper saw him in convulsions and ran to turn the current off. When he returned he found Ryan dead.

The wire had become crossed and a current of 2,000 volts was sent through Ryan's body.

Why Are the Shops Closed?

The Democrat-Sentinel was today informed that a delegation of Ohio street business men will ask the Business Men's club to call upon the Missouri Pacific management at once and ask why it is that the company shops here are not being operated in compliance with the company's contract with the city.

It is certainly about time we had some slight information on the subject.

Pole Was Blown Down.

During the wind storm last night an electric light pole at Fifth and Brown was blown down.

PAID $90,000 FOR 46 FEET

FRANK B. AND BEN F. MEYER
CONSUMMATE BIG DEAL
IN ST. LOUIS.

PROPERTY SOLD FOR FIRST TIME

Hicks-Lucas Family Held It Since Government Grant—Lot Is 46½
by 100 Feet, Twelfth and Pine Streets.

Frank B. and Ben F. Meyer, former Sedalians, have purchased for $90,000 a piece of property in St. Louis, written of as follows in the Globe-Democrat:

The deeds for the sale of the southeast corner of Pine and Twelfth streets, announced several days ago in the Globe-Democrat, were filed for record yesterday. The Meyer Real Estate and Investment Co., represented by Frank B. Meyer, bought the corner from the Hicks-Hager Realty Co., which was represented by Frank S. Hicks, of Los Angeles, Cal., who arrived here yesterday.

The property is 46½x100 feet and is improved with old brick buildings three stories high. The rental of these does not pay anything like a fair rate on the purchase price, and the purchasers expect to improve the corner with a modern fire proof hotel, after the style of the Marquette. The plans are very much in embryo as yet, but the structure will probably be of the skyscraper order, with stores on the first floor and designed to furnish first class accommodations at moderate rates. The officers of the Meyer Real Estate and Investment Co. are Frank B. Meyer, president; B. F. Meyer, secretary and treasurer.

A feature of the sale is that this is the first time the holding has passed from the hands of the Hicks-Lucas family since it came to it from the government. The Hicks descendants now reside in California and the delay in closing the deal was due to the long distance negotiations. The Globe-Democrat also had the following:

Suit to clear away a cloud which has rested for half a century unnoticed on the title of one of the most valuable of St. Louis downtown business corners, the southeast corner of Twelfth and Pine streets, was filed yesterday in the circuit court. That there was any cloud on the property was not known until very recently, when the title was examined by experts employed by prospective purchasers.

The suit is filed by the Hicks-Hager Realty Co., made up in the main of grandchildren of James H. Lucas against the forty-one heirs of Henry S. Turner and his wife, Julia Turner. On April 26, 1857, James H. Lucas borrowed $10,000 from Henry S. Turner and gave him a deed of trust on the ground to secure the debt. The deed was duly recorded in the recorder's office at the time and still remains on the recorder's books unsatisfied. It is alleged in the petition that the notes have long since been paid and destroyed and that the original deed of trust has been lost or destroyed, but that no steps were taken to clear the record.

The property has never in its history been transferred by purchase and sale. Every change of ownership it experienced was by inheritance in the Lucas family.

In a letter to a friend here Mr. Frank B. Meyer says: "The Globe-Democrat is a little premature in mentioning our intention to build a hotel; but if we do not effect a 99-year lease soon we will improve the property, and the location is not a bad one for a hotel."

WOULD RENEW LEASE ON PUBLIC CREDULITY.

The platform adopted recently by the Indiana republican convention is a masterpiece of political sophistry. The practice of deception has become a fine art in the drafting of g. o. p. declarations of principles, but nowhere has it been exhibited to better advantage in recent years than in this literary ebullition that could emanate only from Hoosier intellects. Notice this evanescent flash of political morality:

"The republican party notes with pleasure the growing determination to eradicate political corruption from whatever source the same originates, and to the end that the party may respond to that sentiment we oppose the contribution to political parties for campaign purposes by corporations of the state or nation, or by officers or persons in behalf of such corporations and we hereby commend the Indiana republican state committee for its refusal to accept contributions from corporations within or without the state."

How much more to the purpose and how much more evidence of good faith would have been a straightforward declaration that "We are in favor of the enactment by congress and of legislatures of laws requiring the publication of all campaign contributions from corporations, their officers or agents." Such laws, the republicans well know, would instantly stop the practice they pretend to condemn in harmless and equivocal convention resolutions. They are against the evil but not so strongly that they want to outlaw it with punishment and abolish it with publicity.

And here is another on the tariff: "We insist that revision be speedily done. We, therefore, favor the calling of an extra session early in November, 1908, to make such revision," etc.

Four years ago we had a "straddle" declaration from the republicans on the tariff. They would revise it "when there was a demand from the people" and when "it would do more good than harm." These were campaign deceptions to get votes. The protectionists had no more idea of meddling with the tariff than they did of starting to Mars in an airship. They have been making these insincere declarations ever since, in state campaigns and in congressional elections in order to retain their hold on the voters.

But at last the stand-patters have moved to the point of promising "immediate revision," "after the election."

What assurance is there, we should like to ask, that this is not another false and misleading promise advanced in the hour of need to gain a four-year renewal of the worn out lease on public credulity?

OUR DIPLOMATIC SERVICE.

The Hill diplomatic incident ought at least to convince this government of the wisdom, if not the necessity, of providing suitable quarters for its representatives at foreign courts. The forced retirement of Ambassador Tower and the fuss it has stirred up over the appointment of his successor, are quite as embarrassing to the United States as to the parties concerned in the unfortunate affair. Mr. Tower was giving excellent satisfaction both to the German and his own governments. The kaiser was quite as reluctant to part with him as was Washington to have him return home, but the paucity of his salary compelled his retirement.

His house rent alone cost him more money than he was receiving for his services from his government. Only a man of wealth and large income could afford to maintain his station and position for long under these circumstances. Mr. Tower was paying out of his own pocket annually thousands of dollars in necessary expenses for the privilege and honor of representing the United States as ambassador at Berlin. Not possessing an independent fortune, it is manifest that an end of this system of financing would be speedy and inevitable.

His resignation again confronts Americans with the disagreeable fact, long a matter of publicity and gossip abroad, that the United States pursues this policy in the selection of ambassadors: It either auctions the honor to one of its rich citizens who is willing and anxious to pay for it in the form of liquidating the deficit in the annual expense account, in addition to making heavy campaign contributions, or it confers the distinction for a brief time upon a man of ability who holds the job in as economical a manner as possible until it bankrupts him and his family. Naturally such a basis for providing diplomatic representation is not well calculated to enlist confidence abroad nor to command respect at home.

Ambassadors and ministers should have long and thorough diplomatic training. They should give their lives to the calling and should be advanced as they become useful and skillful. We can never have this kind of representation abroad so long as we pursue our present niggardly policy. Not until we build embassies of our own in important capitals, maintain them as their rank merits and pay the men who occupy them the salaries their post and responsibilities demand, will the full prestige of America's high position be felt throughout the world.

ANOTHER RICHMOND IN THE FIELD.

Well! Well! Our old friend Jesse Grant says he will contend for the democratic nomination for president and thinks, after looking over the southern states, that he will have some votes. We always did like Jesse, for he was an outspoken democrat when his illustrious father was the republican president, and the general was never able to convert him, nor could the place holding politicians of the Grant era—mostly a dishonest lot—scare him from his support of the party of the people. But Jesse will find that the name of Grant will hardly conjure enough in these days to elect him president. Jesse must first be elected to congress or a governorship and show his capacity for statesmanship, before he can expect the people to trust him with the highest office within the gift of the people.

The Vanderbilt mess will probably keep society interested until the Abuzzi-Hinkins and the De Sagan-Gould matches can be arranged and pulled off.

Whether called a filibuster or some other name does not, however, confuse the fact that the action of the house minority is a move to obtain legislation which the country needs.

The burning of those 50,000 gallons of booze over in Peoria, Ill., must have made the prohibitionists weep for joy.

The most commendable thing about the Vanderbilt scandal is that it is being aired behind closed doors.

Lavender salts are used in our home to freshen the air of the living room, where smoking is occasionally indulged in. Select a large mouthed bottle—a stick candy jar which will hold a quart is just the thing. In this place one pint of pure (not household) ammonia, add two ounces of oil of lavender and then fill the bottle with carbonated ammonia blocks. When using shake the bottle, remove the stopper and leave for half an hour.
The odor is peculiarly invigorating close a sniff of the jar is taken.—

SAM COOK ANSWERS SILLY VA-PORINGS OF WOULD BE GOVERNOR.

NOW WHAT DID THE JUDGE MEAN?

Statements Made By Him Are Pronounced By Mr. Cook and Mr.
Hawes as Being Far From Facts in Case.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 7.—Referring to the interview of Judge Evans, printed in a St. Louis paper, about Sam B. Cook and other democrats, Mr. Cook said tonight:

"I can hardly think Judge Evans is quoted correctly in his remarkable interview in the Post-Dispatch. The most of his complaint is ridiculous on its face. The only allegation I care to specially notice is his statement that soon after the election of 1904
a Jefferson City newspaper, edited by J. H. Edwards, at that time my chief clerk, had published an attack on him, holding him responsible for my defeat; that he had spoken to me about it, and that I had said I knew the charge was untrue; that afterwards he had spoken to Mr. Edwards about it and Mr. Edwards told him I had written the editorial.

"As a matter of fact Mr. Edwards was not engaged in the newspaper business during or immediately following the campaign of 1904; I never wrote an article for any newspaper attacking Judge Evans, and Mr. Edwards did not say to Judge Evans that I did. To the contrary, I wrote a number of letters over the state in reply to letters received from others on this subject. That in my judgment Judge Evans desired the election of the entire state ticket, and so far as I was personally concerned I had no grievance against his management whatever. Only within the last few weeks I wrote a prominent democrat of Callaway county to this effect, and he is at liberty to publish the letter if he so desires.

"As for the allegation that I said I would be elected by 100,000 majority and that I refused to accept aid for myself from the state committee, the allegation is so absurd as to scarcely need mentioning. My close personal friends will recall that I was not at all sanguine of the election of either Captain Allen or myself, although I did not think the remainder of the ticket would be defeated. We had had twelve months of bitter factional fighting, and the wonder is under all the circumstances that we were not defeated worse than we were.

"After the campaign, when I learned for the first time that the state committee had an unexpected balance of some $6,000 or $7,000 in its treasury, I wrote to Judge Evans that I understood all of the candidates had not paid their assessments in full, and asked that those of us who had paid be reimbursed from the unexpended balance, which was subsequently done.

"As to Mr. Hawes' selection to manage the St. Louis campaign, I would willingly assume the responsibility for his selection if I could do so justly. However, Mr. Hawes was induced to take charge of the campaign through influences over which I had no control, and I knew nothing of his selection until after it was agreed upon.

"I do not know what amount of money was expended in the organization of the city, but my recollection now is that something over $20,000 was contributed to the campaign fund by the police department, and that one-half of this sum was turned over by Chairman Evans to the treasurer of the Jefferson club for use in St.
Louis. However, I want to repeat that I have absolutely no complaint to make against Judge Evans' management of the campaign so far as I am personally concerned. I have neither the time nor the inclination to engage in personal discussions with the candidates for governor or other office. I have not signed any man's petition to become a candidate for governor nor personally asked any man to become a candidate for any office in this campaign.

"If it is any gratification to Judge Evans to know that Captain Allen and I were cut nearly 3,000 votes in the city of St. Louis below that for Parker, or if he thinks our loss in that campaign will help him to the extent of a single vote in his contest for governor, I am more than willing that he indulge the delusion. Most chairmen, however, would not be proud of such an achievement, nor would they withhold the further fact that in spite of the unscrupulous warfare of the newspapers to which Judge Evans gives his remarkable interview both Captain Allen and myself polled a greater vote in the state as a whole than the candidate for president.

"Judge Evans will find before he has proceeded far in this campaign that the democratic voters of Missouri have little patience with the efforts of any candidate to boost himself into office by personally assailing other democrats. He will find not only that the democratic voters

but the democratic press of the state, both country and metropolitan, are advocating democratic doctrine; are earnestly and intelligently laboring for party success. He will find the face of the democracy of the state set toward victory, and he will further find that there is no place in this campaign for the bickerings of the personal grievances of the present."

Yesterday Harry Hawes gave out an interview in which, in terms equally as strong as Mr. Cook's, he denied Judge Evans' charges and places that gentleman in a position which is somewhat peculiar.
Judge Evans' penchant for holding office himself and landing his kin-folks in snug berths on the state pay roll was also casually mentioned.

YALE MEN TAKE TO THE LAW.

The Bar Still Attracts One-Third of the University's Graduates.

The statisticians at Yale have drawn up a table to show what occupations the graduates of the institution have chosen in the last century.
From the table it appears that the ministry has fallen off greatly as an attraction.

When the century opened about 39
per cent. of Yale graduates were ministers. Beginning with 1860 this number took a great fall. Since 1865 the average has been six per cent.

The averages for law and medicine have remained about the same. As a rule ten per cent. of Yale's graduates are doctors. In law the figures have been steadily about 33 per cent.

In teaching and science the figures have increased very gradually from about two per cent. to 11 per cent.
The strongest upward tendency has been that of business. The farmers have fallen off ever since the southern planters ceased to enter Yale.

Business now attracts about one-third of the men, and the law about one-third. The other third is divided between the ministry, science, teaching, forestry and a few other branches.

WORLD'S NEED OF STRONG MEN.

Should Be Better Than the Generations of the Past.

Some of us are disposed to be satisfied if we can be pretty nearly as good as the men of the last generation. That will not do at all. The men of this generation have got to be a great deal better men—bigger, broader, sounder, keener, braver, men—than their fathers were. If they are not they will be swamped with the business of the world in their hands. The entire ethical standard of financial life is being, and must be, lifted up. We cannot do the enormously increased business of the world to-day on the moral plane where we were living 25 years ago. If we attempt it we shall plunge ourselves in chaos. We have got to have higher principles of justice and equality and clearer notions of financial integrity, and stronger convictions of fidelity to trusts, and a deeper sense of the business responsibility of every man to the whole community.—Washington Gladden.

Not from the Scriptures.

The quotation: "God tempereth the wind to the shorn lamb," is one which very often leads people to believe it is to be found in the Scriptures. As a matter of fact it appears first in English in Sterne's "Sentimental Journey." It is generally supposed that Sterne took this from an old French proverb. Another rendering of this is to be found in Herbert's "Jocunda Prudentum," where it takes the form:
"To close-shorn sheep God gives wind to measure."

The "Sunny Jim" rhymes fit the bread made of the "Pride of Perry".

Ibsen has invaded the sacred precincts of the select boarding school for young ladies. He has entered disguised as a "course in northern literature."

He may be found even in the fashionable New York finishing schools, where the budding social leaders go to take luncheon and recess.
In one of these establishments a blonde beauty taking the Ibsen course recently remarked to her instructor:
"I don't think Ibsen knew much about dramatic art. I've just been to see 'The Master Builder,' and they wore the same costumes all the way through."

The astonished instructor swallowed quickly and responded: "Don't judge Ibsen by one play. In 'Hedda Gabler' they wear morning, afternoon and evening clothes. It's really quite dramatic!"

Beware of Too Much Modesty.
Alexander Campbell, a bank accountant of New York, did such splendid work that his employers raised his wages. Campbell is a modest man. "I can't accept it," he said; "I am not worth that much." Whereupon they sent for a doctor and had Campbell examined. The doctor decided that he is insane, and the modest man was admitted at Bloomingdale hospital for the insane. Moral: Take all that is offered you. A modest violet in an insane asylum doesn't get as much out of life as the sunflower on the outside.

Some years ago the college entrance requirements in English called for the "careful study" of four or five Eng-

cants for admission to a certain Penn-

Burns' poetry. One aspirant for freshman standing concluded his little essay with the following remarkable sentence: "Burns would be a far used so much slang."—Harper's.

TO WELCOME THE FLEET

CELEBRATION AT SAN DIEGO, CALIF., WILL BE SOMETHING GRAND.

OTHER CITIES SOON TO FOLLOW

Boquet of Flowers and Dozen of Oranges for Each of the 16,000 Sailors—Secretary of the Navy Metcalf to Be There.

San Diego, Cal., April 7.—With the arrival of the battleship fleet off San Diego now but a few days distant, enthusiasm in this city is passing all bounds and the celebration to be held here will doubtless be the most remarkable ovation in the history of the American navy.

Later Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Francisco will have the opportunity to demonstrate their hospitality, but San Diego, by reason of being the first American city on the Pacific coast to welcome the sailors, is determined to take precedence also in the enthusiasm of its greeting.

For weeks the various committees have been working night and day, and the results of their labors are already apparent. Thousands of invitations have been sent to prominent citizens of California, Arizona and New Mexico and assurances of large crowds of distinguished visitors have been received.

Pictures of Rear Admiral Evans and other officers plaster the town. The stores are running over with souvenir postal cards relating to the fleet. Everywhere it is fleet, fleet, fleet, and also along the coast.

New features are constantly being added, the latest being a novel one. It is proposed that each sailor in the fleet be presented with a dozen big oranges and a bouquet of flowers. That would mean about 16,000 bouquets and 20,000 oranges.

There will be boat races by the crews of the fleet for prizes offered by the people of San Diego, also numerous dances, a banquet to the officers, illumination of the city and harbor, land and naval parades and concerts.

A jeweled sword will be presented to Admiral Evans, and his wife will

Plans for the great demonstration and review at San Francisco are now nearing completion.

Forty-five American fighting ships will occupy San Francisco Bay. The secretary of the navy, aboard the Yankton as his flagship, will review the fleet, which will include the sixteen battleships of Admiral Evans' squadron, the West Virginia, the Nevada, the 14,500-ton cruisers Tennessee, Washington, South Dakota, California, Pennsylvania, Colorado and Maryland, the cruisers Charleston, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Albany, and the torpedo-boats and auxiliary ships. They will anchor in the bay from Mission Wharf to Hunter's Point, out of the line of the ferries between San Francisco and Oakland, but in easy view of each city.

The Yankton, bearing the flag of Secretary Metcalf, will pass between the columns of ships to the roar of saluting guns and the music of naval bands.

DON'T WANT THEM ON A JURY.

Lawyers Have a Prejudice Against Curly-Haired Men.

It is not generally known that there is a well-defined prejudice against curly-haired men when it comes to choosing a jury. When asked to explain the objection to curly-haired men, a prominent lawyer said:

"When I was just starting life my legal mentor inculcated that idea very forcibly into me. He said that curly-haired men almost invariably had been the pampered darlings of their parents, and in their youth had been so accustomed to having their own way that they had grown up in the belief that everybody on earth was wrong except themselves. In this way the seeds of opposition were sown, and as men they made it a point to disagree with everybody and everything. If every other man on a jury voted one way they would vote the other. They usually are as stubborn as the day is long. Hence a curly-haired man never goes on a jury if I can prevent it."

LETTA CLYBURN WANTS A $70,000 ESTATE DIVIDED WITHOUT DELAY.

SAYS SHE'S ILLEGITIMATE CHILD

The Father the Late W. R. Clyburn, of Garland, Kansas, Who Died Last January—He Had but One Known Heir.

Fort Scott, Kan., April 7.—What will prove the most sensational litigation docketed in Bourbon county for a decade was started yesterday when J. I. Sheppard filed suit in the district court for Miss Letta Clyburn, of Garland, against Mrs. E. H. Denton, daughter and sole heir of W. R. Clyburn, asking that the court grant her a one-half interest in a $70,000 estate of the deceased Mr. Clyburn, who was one of the most extensive farmers of this county, owning 1,100 acres at Garland at the time of his death. The suit promises to be a bitterly contested one.

For weeks past there has been a rumor that this suit would be filed. Mr. Clyburn had but one known child, Mrs. Denton, who resided with him. At the time of his decease, of course, all his estate went to this child, the father dying intestate. Then appeared Miss Clyburn, who was reared by the Clyburn family. She sets up as just cause for action that she is a child of the deceased land owner by a woman not his wife, and that she is therefore entitled to one half of his estate.

The Clyburns deny that such relations exist. They say that the claimant lived with a poor family when a little tot, and that at the death of her rightful custodian Mr. and Mrs. Clyburn took her to raise. The plaintiff swears that she can prove in "black and white" that her claims are a true statement of the existing facts in the case, and for this reason she wants what she believes is due her. The case will come up for trial at this time of court.

Mrs. Franklin Bell Talks of Conditions Past and Present.

"When I hear persons talk about the extravagance of army folk I feel a little warm," said Mrs. Franklin Bell, wife of Gen. Bell. "In the 30 years in which I have known army life, the salary of officers has not increased to a perceptible extent, but just look where the price of living has gone! In my early married days we lived in Fort Lincoln, Dakota, and I had one maid of all work, a Swede. I gave her exactly four dollars a month, and she performed every item of the housework, except hauling the water. Her cooking was a joy and a wren could not be neater about herself or her surroundings. She aided me to mend the linen and to make my gowns. Now I should like to see any kind of maid, even in the wilds, condescend to accept less than four dollars a week. Extravagance! Why, it's a wonder to me that army men who have not private fortunes are able to keep up appearances at all. Let me give you another item: I formerly had my best gowns made in Minneapolis for five dollars and six dollars apiece. Compare those figures with the prices asked by modistes to-day, and then think of the persons who have to pay the new prices on the old salaries."

HAD IT FIGURED OUT NICELY.

Washington Girl's Good Reason for Marrying Naval Officer.

Richmond Pearson Hobson, representative from Alabama, is one of the new members of congress. His conferees were discussing Hobson the other evening, and one raised the question as to whether he had treated his fame fairly in leaving the navy, where his reputation was established, and taking up a political career.

"That reminds me of what a young Washington girl once said to me," remarked Representative Butler Ames, who was one of the party. "She had married a naval officer, and I asked her why she did that, as naval officers are away from home so much. 'Well,' she said, 'I figured up the thing pretty carefully, and I concluded that if my husband didn't turn out to be my affinity he would be away half the time, and if he did he would be home half the time. What more could one ask?'"

Counting Crabs.

The crab known as the scale-tailed apus was believed to have become extinct in Great Britain 50 years ago, the last recorded specimens being taken in the ponds on Hampstead Heath. But now it has turned up again in some numbers in two ponds on Preston Merse, near Southwick, in Kirkcudbrightshire. About two and a half inches long, the apus bears a very striking likeness to that remarkable creature, the king crab, and this because the forepart of the body is covered by a great semicircle shield of carapace, while, as in the king crab, it swims on its back. In the great number of its legs the scale-tailed apus has few rivals, while in the number of joints which these share between them no other creature can compare. The naturalist Schaffer once essayed the task of counting them and made the magnificent total of 1,802,604. Latreille put down the number at a round 2,000,000.—Washington Herald.

The Bachelor's Dream.

Like the fox and the grapes, many a man hides his loneliness by a pretended contempt for home and marriage. This is not always due to lack of faith or selfishness, but rather lack of money. It is said that an excess of money is usually a woman's strongest enemy; that it often has power to make her give up the man she truly loves for a man who can give her the luxuries of life.

Deep down in his heart the bachelor dreams that somewhere in the wide world "she" is waiting for him, if he only could find and support "her." Was there ever a man who was immune? Certainly not, except when he and money are a thing apart.

The Last Word.

His Affliction.

A gentleman riding in a railroad train was impressed with two passengers, one a pretty, delicate-looking young lady and the other a plain-faced maid. While the mistress was at dinner the gentleman remarked to the maid in a tone of great sympathy: "Your young lady seems very ill." "Yes, sir; she suffers sadly." "Consumption, I should fear?" "No, sir; I am sorry to say it is of the heart." "Dear me! Aneurism?" "Oh, no, sir! It is only a lieutenant in the navy."

An Early Coin Sweater.

"Coin sweating," which so often figures in the Old Bailey calendar, is a very, very old crime. More than six centuries before Christ there was a coin sweater, one Alexander of Byzantium.

He was the chief officer of the public treasury, and he amassed an immense and sudden fortune by "clipping" the money in so skillful a manner that his frauds could only be discovered by weighing.

The Byzantines gave him the nickname of "The File," from his making such dextrous use of that tool. Whence probably comes the modern term of "file" applied to thieves, pickpockets and cunning, hard-headed scoundrels. —Pearson's Weekly.

Amusement Notes.

Last night's performance of "The Man in the Overalls" at Wood's opera house was liberally attended, considering the condition of the weather, and every one went away much pleased, and loud in their praises of the Dorothy Stock company.

"The Man in the Overalls" is a strong labor play, and as Sedalia's population is greatly composed of laboring people, under the extremely low prices being made by the Dorothy Stock company, no person interested in the welfare of labor should miss this opportunity of witnessing this powerful play.

ECZEMA NOW CURABLE.

All Itching Skin Diseases Which Are Not Hereditary Instantly Relieved by Oil of Wintergreen.

Can eczema be cured?

Some physicians say "Yes." Some say "No."

The real question is, "What is meant by eczema?" If you mean those scaly eruptions, those diseases which make their first appearance, not at birth, but years afterward, and perhaps not until middle age—then there can no longer be any question that these forms of eczema are curable.

Simple vegetable oil of wintergreen, mixed with other ingredients, will kill the germs that infect the skin. Apply this prescription to the skin, and instantly that awful itch is gone. The very moment the liquid is applied, that agonizing, tantalizing itch disappears, and continued applications of this external remedy soon cure the disease.

We carry in stock this oil of wintergreen properly compounded into D. D. D. Prescription. While we are not sure that it will cure all those cases of skin trouble which are inherited, we positively know that this D. D. D. Prescription, whenever rightly used, will cure every last case of genuine eczema or other skin trouble, which did not exist at birth.

We know this. Anyway you, yourself, will know that D. D. D. Prescription instantly takes away the itch the moment it is applied to the skin.—W. E. Bard Drug Co. Stop that itch today—Instantly. Just call at our store and try this refreshing and soothing liquid; also ask about D. D. D. Soap.

GETS "STAR-CHRONICLE"

NATHAN FRANK, A FORMER CONGRESSMAN WAS THE PURCHASER.

THE HYPHEN IS TO BE ELIMINATED

Will Be Published as an Independent Newspaper—Will Not Oppose the Rich Nor Accumulation of Wealth.

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—Nathan Frank, Monday regained control of the Star-Chronicle, a newspaper published in St. Louis, by purchasing all of the stock heretofore held by the Scripps-McRae League.

It was officially announced that the title of the paper hereafter will be "The Star and Chronicle." The first edition issued after the purchase carried the words "The Star" in large, heavy type and the words "and Chronicle" in very much smaller type beneath them.

Mr. Frank is a lawyer, a former congressman and is widely known as a republican politician.

He had a controlling interest in the Star at the time of its merger with the Chronicle three years ago. At that time a deal was made by which the two papers were combined, the Star stockholders, headed by Frank, retaining a controlling interest in the Star-Chronicle Co., but permitting the Scripps-McRae holders of a minority of the stock to assume editorial management of the paper. Milton A. McRae was elected chairman of the board.

Mr. Frank refused to discuss the purchase of the paper and referred all questioners to an editorial published in Monday's issue of the paper.

As to the reasons for the transaction the editorial says:

"Something over a year ago Mr. McRae's health failed and he was obliged to go to foreign lands to recuperate; his visit abroad did not restore him to health and he has severed his connection with the Scripps-McRae League of papers and has retired from active business. The holdings of the Chronicle stockholders have passed to the St. Louis Star stockholders. The present owners live in St. Louis and the Star and Chronicle as one paper will now be managed by them."

The editorial adds that the paper will be politically independent and "will not oppose the rich or the accumulation of wealth."

The Leap Year Fetish.

Is there any warrant, one wonders, for the so-called privilege which leap year is supposed to grant to unmarried women? And is there any authenticated case of a girl having availed herself of this chance of bringing man to the point? It is noteworthy that the time allowed for her to do the deed is strictly limited. So soon as the feast of St. Valentine dawns her chances vanish, so that she has only six weeks in which to take advantage of her traditional right to propose marriage. One fancies that if there were any reason to suspect that this privilege would be insisted upon, a general exodus of men would take place on New Year's eve. Even if he gives women the suffrage, man will never concede his right to propose marriage, nor would he be worth the asking if he did.—The Lady's Pictorial.

What a Hat Will Do.

A new book published in England, "The Heritage of Dress," throws light on many subjects. Mr. Wilfred Webb, the author, says that heavy clothing is depressing and laces produce light heartedness. As regards hats, a heavy hat makes one have low spirits; a broad hat, one feels jolly; a fancy hat, coquettish mood, and it makes one feel brighter if the hat rolls away from the face. Mr. Webb thinks that trousers will some day be the fashionable wear for women.

Not Suitable.

"Why doesn't that fellow get some wide-awake methods?" "Great Scott! And ruin his business?"

"What sort of business is it that won't bear wide-awake methods?" "He's just patented a cure for insomnia."

TOOK TIME TO DO KINDLY ACT

Proof That New Yorkers Can on Occasions Be Chivalrous.

That New Yorkers are not in too much of a hurry all the time to be thoughtful and kindly was illustrated the other day in Nassau street, where the wind was playing such havoc with umbrellas that a man with a taste for statistics counted just ten blown into wrecks in the space of 25 minutes, says the New York Press. Just as this diverting spectacle was at its height in front of the quick lunch restaurant a poor woman, with a basketful of newspapers hung over one crooked arm and a baby snuggled up close to her body in the other, came down the street trying to make way against the wind and still shelter the baby under a shabby excuse for an umbrella.

Just as she was in front of the restaurant a particularly fierce blast of wind blew the umbrella backward, carrying the baby's cap off with it. Instantly one man bolted from the door of the restaurant to her aid, two men on the sidewalk grabbed for the tiny cap and a fourth started on a jump across the street to the woman's aid. Two of the men put the cap on the baby's head and another held the umbrella over the mother's head while they were doing it. The fourth man looked as if he had been injured deeply by not having a hand in the good work. He saved his hurt feelings by putting a coin in the baby's fingers. Then every one in sight looked as pleased as Punch, and the traffic went on its wind-blown way.

WORTH MUCH TO LITTLE WOMAN.

Penny or Gold Piece, Coin Was Vital at That Moment.

After she had got through her shopping the little woman discovered that she was down to five cents in pennies. She also discovered that her last car ticket was gone. It was up to her to hold to the five pennies if she wanted to ride home. She was glad it was five pennies instead of four.

She got on the car. As she saw the conductor coming she got out her pennies. Just as she reached down into a remote corner of her purse for the last penny a fat woman, who was getting off, bumped into her and knocked one penny out of her hand.

The little woman leaned over excitedly to search for it. The man beside her saw her look of sudden anxiety and also the yellow flash of the coin as it dropped. "Woman dropped a five-dollar-gold piece," he volunteered to the conductor, when the fare taker came up. The woman was ashamed to say then that it was only a penny. As a matter of fact, it was worth a five-dollar gold piece, she thought. If she didn't find it she would be put off the car!

By this time three or four men were aiding in the search. Finally the conductor himself picked up the lost coin. "Huh!" he grunted, contemptuously, "It's only a penny."

The little woman dropped her eyes with a thud as she handed him the other four pennies.

years he has figured in few such meetings. Lack of funds has curbed his impetuosity.

How He Won Anna.

His wooing of Mme. Gould has been systematic and carefully determined. From the beginning of her trouble with her husband the prince has been Mme. Gould's guide and sympathizer. He has been almost constantly in her society. He knows women well, and was able to say the right things at the right time to soothe her ruffled feelings and quiet her anstrung nerves. Mme. Gould became deeply touched with his apparent devotion. More to the point, he neither censured her, as did her family, nor abused her, as did the count. Back of it, though, was the schemer's thought always.

The prince comes of an old family. Generations of azure blood flow in his veins. His family is as noble in Prussia as in France. Prinz von Sagan is his German title. Eventually he will succeed to the duchy of Sagan in Prussian Silesia, now held by his father, the Duc de Tallyrand-Perigord. The income was $400,000 a year until the old duke's creditors got hold of all of it save $5,000 a year.

He comes of a family of prodigates, and is a lineal descendant of the famous Tallyrand, star liar, renegade and cynic of French history. A dazzling line of dabbachees preceded him, but he has outdone them all. In all Europe he probably is without a peer in extravagance and loose living. But for all that, he can play the polished gentleman to perfection.

JUDGE TESTED THE ELEVATOR.

How Governor Fitzhugh Lee Put Stout Friend to Good Use.

Several years ago, when the elevator was first put in the capitol at Richmond, an incident occurred showing the sense of humor of the then Gov. Fitzhugh Lee. The general was of stout build, and he wanted to see how the machine would work. He was a close friend to Judge Samuel B. Witt of the Hustings court.

Judge Witt was holding court the day the elevator was completed, and he was called to the telephone by Gov. Lee.

"Sam," said the governor, "I want to see you for a moment, and want you to come to the office at once."

"Certainly, governor," said the judge, always one of the most accommodating and obliging of public men.

"By the way, Sam, the elevator is finished and you can come up to my office without having to walk up the steps."

Judge Witt got back on the bench and ordered a short recess of the court. Then he hurried over to see the governor. He made known his presence, and he was ushered into the governor's office.

"Hello, Sam," said the governor. "Glad to see you. Come up on the elevator?"

"I did," replied the judge.

"That's all right, then," remarked the governor. "I am just going to dinner and I did not care to try that elevator till I was certain it would hold you. That is all, Sam; thank you."

SKYSCRAPERS IN OLDEN TIMES.

Roman Law Prohibited Buildings More Than 100 Feet High.

"The skyscraper is no modern invention," says a St. Louis architect, well read in the history of his profession. "In all the ancient cities where brick or stone was available, high houses, within the walls of the city, were very numerous, because of the lack of ground space for building. In the days of Augustus the tenement houses in Rome became so high as to be dangerous, and laws were passed condemning a number of tenement rows and ordering them to be taken down, while at the same time a law was enacted limiting the height of all future tenements to 100 feet. For palaces and public buildings there was no limit. After the burning of the city in Nero's time the streets, which before were no wider than our alleys, were made broader; some of them, through the business part of the city, were 40 feet wide, and some of the great thoroughfares were 60. The tenement height was lowered to 80 feet, and, as a consequence, the city spread far beyond its walls. The average height of a ceiling in a Roman tenement was a little over five feet; the windows were open holes in the wall, stopped in cold weather with board shutters. So, by comparison, the worst modern tenement is a palace compared with the skyscraper home of the poor when the empire was at its best."

Stockings.

It is related that one William Rider, a London apprentice, happening to see a pair of knit stockings at the house of an Italian merchant from Mantua, made a pair like them, the first made in England, which he presented to the earl of Pembroke, 1564. The art of weaving stockings in a frame was invented in England by the Rev. Mr. Lee of Cambridge in 1589, 25 years after he had learned to knit them with needles. Cotton stockings were first made in 1730. The ancients wore cloth about their feet and legs, and in modern Europe cloth hose were in use for generations before knit hose were known.—N. Y. American.

The Ridiculous Motive.

Carlton McCarthy, the mayor of Richmond, in a recent address on "George Washington," referred to the clear, cool, logical mind of the hero. "We moderns," said Mr. McCarthy, "are chicken-headed beside him. We do ridiculous things for absurd reasons. We are like the Richmond caterer who has just returned from a winter tour of Norway."

"What was your motive in going to Norway this winter? I said to the man the other day."

"A friend of mine," he answered, "made me a Christmas present of a Baedeker guidebook for Norway and Sweden."—Buffalo Enquirer.

Ornament for Prince's Crown.

The apex of the prince of Wales' crown is a tuft of feathers tipped with gold, said to be worth $50,000. The feathers took 20 years to collect, and cost the lives of a dozen hunters. The bird from whose tail the feathers are plucked is called the feriwah, a sort of creature of the bird of paradise species, but of the rarest kind. To obtain the tail feather in its full beauty it is necessary to pluck it out of the living bird, as instantly after death the plumage becomes lusterless. What makes hunting the feriwah so dangerous is that the bird always frequents the haunt of tigers.

Stomach Self-Protecting.

The reason why the stomach and intestines do not digest themselves was once thought by Weinland, a German experimenter, to be that they defend themselves by anti-enzymes, or anti-ferments. Dr. Nandor Klug of Budapest now reports these anti-ferments not to be found, but that the mucin present in the inner half of the gastric mucous membrane resists the digestive action of the trypsin and the gastric juice. The digestive organs, therefore, protect themselves by the mucin they secrete.

Smart Preacher.

Little four-year-old Carrie went with her aunt to church. The preacher was very earnest in his delivery, and she was much interested. "Mother," said she, when she came home, "I've heard such a smart minister. He stamped and pounded, and made such a noise, and then he got so mad he shook his fists at the folks, and there wasn't anybody dared go up and fight him."

SEEING BY EYES' OWN LIGHT.

Miner's Experience One He Does Not Care to Duplicate.

"I used to see in the dark by the light of my own eyes," said a miner.
"The power was a disease, but not a bad disease for miners to have in this country, where the mines are not looked after as carefully as they would be if their owners worked in them themselves."

"I once was entombed two weeks in a mine. It is a common enough occurrence with us American miners.
I wouldn't speak of it but for the eye disease it gave me."

"You see, after I had been entombed a week—I lived on dead horse
—I suddenly found that I could make out everything about me. The walls, the corpses, the feeding rats—yes, I could see."

"And I continued to see in the dark. I could read in the dark for over a year. I went around exhibiting myself to doctors. I had a disease called lucifuga. The fundi of my eyes—whatever fundi are—had become excessively luminous. Little lamps, they illuminated the night, casting clear yellow rays, pencils of golden light, this way and that, according as I turned them."

"But they hurt. They hurt like the very old Harry. I was glad when a great Chicago specialist put out those two extraordinary lights of mine. The specialist said lots of people who stay overmuch in a dark place get lu-cifuga."

FOUND WANTING AS A LOVER.

Young Man Not the Type to Suit
Sweetheart's Mother.

A sharp-featured, determined little woman popped her head out of the door and indignantly demanded the business of a bashful young man, who had been hanging around the house for hours in a pitiless downpour of rain, hoping against hope that his adored would invite him in.

"Now, then, young fellow, what do you want here? Tryin' to wear the pavement out, or what?" she demanded, sarcastically.

"I reckon I've come a-courtin' your daughter," the shame-faced youth admitted.

"Oh, you're after Lizzie, are yer?
Then take my advice, young man, an'
run away an' lose yerself. My gal ain't goin' to marry a chap that ain't got courage to knock at the door an' ax for her—not likely! Why, when my husband came a-courtin' me and found the door locked he climbed the back-yard wall, strangled the bulldog an' knocked the old man silly w' a clump on the jaw. Then he grabbed hold of my hand and shoved a ring as big as a cartwheel on my finger and told me that the banns were published last Sunday. That's the sort o' husband I want for my Lizzie—not a shiv-erin' milkop that ain't got sense to come in out of the rain!"—Tit-Bits.

A Candid Admission.

"I met in Japan an Englishman, an F. R. G. S., who was searching for a certain lost island," said Mr. Bryan, in recounting experiences of his trip around the world. "This island had been reported from time to time by various vessels, but always in a slightly different location. The theory of the scientist was that the island did not move, as was generally believed,
but might have some peculiar magnetic property which affected the ships' instruments."

"Isn't it astonishing," the scientist remarked, "how an island as large as that can be utterly lost in seas traversed as much as these?"

"How large is it?" I asked.

"About two miles across."

"Well, I don't call that remarkable,"
I said, recalling my campaigns, "I myself have lost areas larger than that

AN INDICTMENT IN FOUR HOURS

Hundreds Surround Patrol Box—$1,000
Roll Fried From His Fingers —Accomplice Made His Escape.

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—Charles ("Kid") Burke, according to Bertillon records a bank sneak of international reputation, was captured yesterday after he is alleged to have removed $1,000 in bills from the overcoat pocket of Michael E. Hogan, of 5564 Cabanne avenue, in the public banking room of the Mercantile Trust company, Eighth and Locust streets.
Burke was captured at the door of the bank by Mr. Hogan, who held him until Patrolman Riley, of the Central district, arrived. The attempted robbery created great excitement, and several persons followed Mr. Hogan, the patrolman and Burke to a patrol box.

Burke had an accomplice, who escaped, according to the trust company officials and several bystanders who witnessed the robbery. This second man, who is described as young,
smooth shaven and well dressed, stood on the steps of the entrance as Burke was overhauled in the storm door by Mr. Hogan.

Just as Hogan grabbed Burke, Dave Smith, colored, one of the bank's uniformed porters, was coming in the entrance. Burke, says Smith, made a quick move as if to pass the bundle of bills to this man, and the latter made a corresponding motion to catch the money. The porter grabbed Burke's arm and blocked the throw, at the same time snatching
the bills from him.

The supposed accomplice immediately executed a "stall," as though he had not been a party to the business, and in the excitement disappeared around the corner of Eighth street. Several persons who saw the play were convinced, however, that the man was in league with Burke and that his part in the plan was to wait outside and get away with the money in case Burke was pursued.

Burke gave his name as Frank Sellick, of New York city, and was identified by Supt. John Shea, of the Ber-tillon bureau, despite his mustache.
Burke declared that he did not take the money, although it had to be pried from his hand after he was captured by Mr. Hogan. He gave his occupation as a bookmaker's sheet writer and wore several valuable diamonds.

Within four hours after being arrested Burke was indicted by the April grand jury on a charge of grand larceny and is being held a prisoner in the Central district holdover.

Mr. Hogan, president and part owner of a bank at Altamont, Ill., entered the bank shortly after 10 o'clock and walked to the receiving teller's window. He held the $1,000 in bills in his hand for a few minutes as he attempted to write a deposit slip.

The piece of paper was blown from the ledge of the window several times and in order to hold it Mr. Hogan placed the money in one of his overcoat pockets. A well dressed man walked up to the window and stood directly back of Mr. Hogan, but was not noticed, Mr. Hogan believing him to be another depositor.

Suddenly the bills were jerked from
Mr. Hogan's pocket and the well dressed man ran toward the door.
Several men who were attracted by Mr. Hogan's screams of "Thief!" attempted to stop Burke, but were unsuccessful. Burke was captured at the door by Mr. Hogan.

Sixty dollars in money was found in Burke's underclothing when he was searched. He declared he went into the bank to change a $20 bill and denied that he had attempted to rob
Mr. Hogan. None of the bills found in his possession was below the denomination of $20. Burke declared that he had had the bill changed before his arrest. In his trousers pocket
the police found $29.12.

Burke stated that his wife lived in Chicago, but refused to give her address. According to witnesses, a confederate who was with Burke fled from the bank as soon as he saw his pal captured.

Burke, who is said to have been a pupil of Eddie Guerin, the bank robber, who was imprisoned on Devil's Island for robbing the Bank of France, has been arrested on numerous occasions, but the only record of his having served time comes from the Erie county penitentiary at New York.

JESUS' NAME IN SCHOOLS

New York Methodists Ask That It Be Not Eliminated.

New York, April 7.—A protest against the elimination of the name of Jesus Christ from the exercises in the public schools of New York was adopted unanimously by the New York Methodist conference yesterday. A resolution was presented by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Bond, of this city, declaring that although the highest courts have held that this is a Christian country, there seems to be a widespread attempt to nullify it.

In New York, the resolution stated, the board of education, in deference to a demand by certain citizens, has put its veto upon any reference to the name of Jesus Christ.

"A song book," the resolution stated, introduced last fall, contains hymns in which the name of Jesus and any reference to Him have been expunged, and the sense intended by the authorities has been violated."

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER HONORARY MEMBER OF THE "B. OF L. E."

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

An Atlanta, Ga., dispatch to the New York Times says: Ethel Roosevelt, who yesterday handled the throttle of one of the mogul locomotives of the West Point line for two hours, and at times sent the engine along at a seventy-mile-an-hour clip, is to be elected an honorary member of the local lodge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, if Engineer John Still can accomplish it.

Still, who gave up his engine to the White House girl, is enthusiastic over her exploit. He took up the matter with his brother engineers today and found them enthusiastic also.

"I think we will elect Miss Ethel at the next meeting," said Still. "She deserves it, for the way she handled that engine. She is as brave as they are made, and her nerves seem to be made of steel. If she is not a chip of the old block I'm a Dutchman. Afraid, why, she wasn't any more afraid than I was—and I've been on the road a good many years now. Why, she even had the locomotive slang all right," said Still.

"Soon after she took the throttle I said: 'Let her rip,' and 'let it rip it is,' was her response, and notch by notch the throttle was opened wider till the cab began to rock and sway like a small boat in a choppy sea.

"We are making more than sixty," I said to her, and the girl laughed and said to me: "That's going some, but not fast enough," and she actually pulled the throttle a bit wider. She was as cool as you please all the time. She even managed to ask while we were racing along how many children I had. She is a chip off the old block, all right."

Better Than Old Position

An unverified rumor in railroad circles today is that G. H. Stapp, recently relieved as superintendent of this division of the Missouri Pacific, is to be appointed superintendent of the St. Louis terminals of the C. & E. I., says the Nevada Mail.

This is a much better position than the one held by Mr. Stapp here.

Crews Are Pulled Off.

On account of the shutting down of the mines in the Pittsburg, Kan., district, the Cornell and Fleming switch crews of the Missouri Pacific have been pulled off.

The Pittsburg yard engine will do the work between Corona and Cornell. The Frisco also took off two crews.

Engine Inspectors Laid Off.

All engine inspectors for the Missouri Pacific have been laid off, and an official bulletin, issued by the company today, requests engineers to do their own inspecting on arrival of trains at Sedalia and to report necessary repairs to be made.

BRYAN WAITERS ON STRIKE

Club Members Themselves Serve 850 Banqueters in Denver.

Denver, April 7.—When everything was in readiness for beginning service at the banquet tendered to William J. Bryan by the Bryan democratic club of Colorado last night, the fifty or more waiters demanded of the caterer in charge that he agree to certain changes in the conduct of several establishments operated in this city before they would proceed with the service tonight.

This was refused, and the men left the building. Members of the club giving the banquet then proceeded to serve as best they could.

WALKING TO SAN FRANCISCO

Frank McAllister, Who Arrived in Sedalia This Morning.

Frank McAllister, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a young man of twenty years, who is walking from his home city to San Francisco on a wager of $250, arrived in Sedalia at 3:30 o'clock this morning, he having walked from Tipton, a distance of twenty-six miles, since 10 o'clock last night.

McAllister left Brooklyn March 5, and is to register in San Francisco May 5. He left without a penny, and is to subsist as best he can on the trip without working.

The distance from Brooklyn to Frisco is something like 3,000 miles. Frank says he is a little behind his schedule, but he still has hope of winning his wager.

He is walking under the auspices of the Wanderers' Athletic association of Brooklyn, which organization will give him the $250 in the event he reaches Frisco within the specified time.

His being placed in the convalescent ward means that this can be made possible within a short time.

Cleveland, Ohio., April 7.—Announcement was made by representatives of the city administration last night that in all probability the local street railway controversy will be settled today, and that the rate of fare will be 3 cents flat, with an extra cent for a transfer.

The fight for a lower rate of fare than 5 cents has been waged by the city for seven years. It was a campaign issue in four city elections.

HURT GREAT ARTIST'S FEELINGS

John Lambert's Witty Rebuke to Vain Woman Sitter.

The late John Lambert, the Philadelphia artist, whose blindness, brought on by the dazzling sunshine of a Spanish summer, caused his death through grief, was a portrait painter of rare talent.

"Lambert," said a member of the Philadelphia club the other day, "was a realist. His portraits were true and unflattering. It annoyed him tremendously to be asked to make an ugly woman beautiful—it was the same thing, he used to say, as being asked to lie."

"A matron sat to Lambert once. At the end of the third sitting she professed to be quite satisfied with the progress of the work."

"All but the mouth," she said. "Please make it small and curved. I know it is a straight, long mouth, really, just as you have drawn it, but in the portrait I want you, if you will, to make it very tiny. Will you?"

"Certainly, madam," said Lambert. "I'll leave it out altogether if you wish."

STEAM-SCHOONER IS UNIQUE.

Vessel of the Pacific Adapted to Carry Heavy Loads.

The steam-schooner, a vessel whose build and habits are peculiar to the Pacific, writes Mr. Ralph D. Paine in "The Greater America," often goes to sea "with her load-line over her hatch," which means that after her hold has been crammed with cargo, a deck-load of lumber is piled half-way up the masts, so that her skipper puts out with the water washing over his main deck.

Along the harbor front of Seattle runs the story of a passenger who loped down to the wharf in a hurry to get aboard a departing steam schooner. He balanced himself on the string-piece for an instant, looked down at what little he could see of the laden craft, and hove his gripsack down the only opening in sight. He was about to dive after it when a lounge on the wharf shouted:

"Hi, there! Where do you think you're jumpin' to? That's the smoke-stack you tossed your baggage down."

"What!" gasped the passenger. "I thought it was the hatch."

The story has a slight flavor of exaggeration, but it may serve to hint that the commerce of the Pacific has ways of its own.—Youth's Companion.

SURELY WE LIVE IN BUSY AGE.

Recent Incident Has Convinced One Man of the Fact.

"This is a busy age, sure enough," said a man who prides himself on keeping in touch with old friends. "We get new proofs of it every day. Not only do we find that we ourselves have less and less time to devote to this, that and the other thing, but we have it brought in upon us that everybody is pretty much in the same fix."

"The other morning I had a letter from a chap whom I know pretty well. I say it was a letter—it was and it wasn't, and in that contradiction lies the point of my remark. A bit of good fortune had happened to him; he had been given a position that counted for a lot, and his home paper had printed an item about it. Wanting to tell me of his luck, he had clipped the item from the sheet, pasted it on a piece of paper, and forwarded it to me with his initials scrawled across the bottom. Five years ago he would have sat down and written me. Now he uses shears and paste. Oh! it's all right; I got the information and that's the main thing. But we're all pretty busy, aren't we?" he concluded.

FIVE SHOTS WERE FIRED

By George Owsley at Two North Side Colored Women.

George Owsley, a negro, was arrested by Officer Demond last afternoon, charged with assault with intent to kill Bessie Paxton and Mary Williams, both colored. Police Judge Gresham, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace, today continued the case until Friday, April 10.

Owsley has been paying attention to the two girls, and yesterday entered a north side store where the two were seated. He called for ice cream, and pretended to treat the girls. Seizing both dishes of cream, he threw the contents into their faces and was ejected from the place.

When on the outside he drew a revolver and fired five unsuccessful shots at the girls.

WAS IT A CORPORATION?

EMERSON, MARLOW & CO., CHICAGO BANKRUPTS, IN LEGAL TANGLE.

HAD A BRANCH HOUSE IN SEDALIA

Petition to Restrain Trustee From Administering Assets Was Heard in Chicago—The Details of the Case.

Chicago, April 7.—The past week further hearing was taken up before Referee Wean in the case of Emerson, Marlow & Co., bankrupts. During the hearing H. A. Emerson, former president of Emerson, Marlow & Co., but now president of the United States Packing Co., was on the stand in the referee's court, but to the close observer Mr. Emerson appeared to have a faulty memory, or else his answers were evasive.

In the hearing no little interest was manifested when it developed that Judge Bruggemeyer, who is now one of the municipal court judges, would be put on the stand to explain certain things which happened while he was attorney for the Monarch Refrigerating Co. two or three years ago, and when Emerson, Marlow & Co. were about to take steps to incorporate in the early part of 1906. It was expected that the judge would be called before the referee Tuesday afternoon, but the hearing had not proceeded far enough to introduce his testimony and it was decided to wait until Thursday, then Friday and finally it was put off again.

Stated in a nutshell, it seems that a number of the petitioning creditors in the bankruptcy proceedings against Emerson, Marlow & Co. have joined hands with the Chicago Title and Trust Co., first appointed receiver for the bankrupt concern and afterwards made trustee as against the Monarch Refrigerating Co., which held a claim for something like $200,000 against Emerson, Marlow & Co. prior to the time the alleged corporation was formed and which claim was never paid, nor were the mortgages satisfied covering real estate which was supposed to have been made over to the corporation by the old firm.

Moses, Rosenthal & Kennedy are the attorneys representing the Monarch, and a short time ago they filed a petition before the referee asking that the Chicago Title and Trust Co. be restrained from administering the estate of Emerson, Marlow & Co., as a corporation, which they allege is non-existent, and, in fact, never existed because certain vital legal requirements were never complied with and that the assets of the old firm of Emerson, Marlow & Co. were never properly transferred to the corporation.

From present indications the attorneys incline to believe that they will win out in their contention and that the point will be established that the corporation did not exist in fact and could not therefore be adjudged a bankrupt.

The petitioning creditors in the bankruptcy proceedings against Emerson, Marlow & Co. as a corporation have not been slow to discern that if the claim which the Monarch held against the old partnership is allowed there will be little more than what the "devil shot at" for the other creditors, who thought they were doing business with a corporation instead of a partnership.

It has been interesting as well as amusing to watch the course of the hearing, and the trade generally will watch with interest the outcome of the proceedings, for if it develops that the Monarch wins out there may be charges of fraud on the part of Emerson, Marlow & Co. in securing credit under the guise of a corporation claiming to have little or no indebtedness, and which sought to gain credit with a flattering statement of its financial condition and resources.

Full details of the failure of Emerson, Marlow & Co. have been printed in the Democrat-Sentinel since the failure last fall, which was a theme for gossip among the wags in a dozen markets and which sent a frenzy over the trade when it was announced on the streets that the failure had come.

Since the bankruptcy proceedings much comment has been heard over the delay in getting a final hearing on the one question at issue, to wit: Was the alleged corporation of Emerson, Marlow & Co. formed for a specific purpose, to get a line of credit that was not justified and to get a 100 to 1 shot and either make a big killing and square up old debts or go down with a crash that would convulse several markets and perhaps leave a number of other produce dealers stranded high and dry. Until a final hearing is heard on the petition now before Referee Wean perhaps no intelligent conclusion can be drawn as to the motives that inspired the corporation idea. Perhaps the real truth of the situation will never be known, but there are those who have an opinion, and some of the people here and elsewhere who lost heavily in the crash are so uncharitable as to suggest that they were taken advantage of.

West Sedalia Sewer to Empty on the Castle Land—Trouble About the Renting of Stall at the Market House.

At 8:10 o'clock last night Mayor Collins rapped for order at the regular meeting of the city council. Messrs. Hugelman and Sullivan were absent, the former coming in later.

Minutes of previous meetings were read and approved and ordered filed. Mr. Crawford asked for a resolution to pave the alley between Seventh Street and Broadway and Ohio and Massachusetts avenue. The request was granted.

John Menefee's claim for $150 for injuries to a horse was deferred, at the request of the claims and supply committee.

Mr. Crawford reported that the City Water company had agreed to lay additional mains, as was recently requested by the council.

Mr. DeJarnette moved that steps be taken at once to have M. M. Stevenson vacate stall No. 1 of the market house; also that steps be taken to collect one month's rent from Adam Wagner, who recently rented a portion of the stall, and suddenly vacated without giving due notice.

Mr. Igenfritz asked that the matter be deferred until the committee can investigate.

Mr. Winner endorsed Mr. DeJarnette's position.

Mr. Andler suggested that steps be taken at once to arrange for the renting of that particular stall and settle the trouble, which has been hanging fire for some time. Mr. Andler seconded Mr. DeJarnette's motion, which carried.

Mr. Igenfritz again asked that the Missouri Pacific be compelled to install an arc light at Quincy avenue and the railroad crossing. The motion carried.

The matter of repairs on East Main street, near the poultry company's plant, was brought up, and on motion of Mr. Patton it was ordered to have the street and alley committee pay $50 of the amount to be expended to make the necessary repairs, the property owners to defray the remainder of the expense.

Monthly reports of officers were received and adopted and ordered filed.

A warrant for $500 in favor of Mrs. Sarah Pope for judgment rendered against the city in Mrs. Pope's damage suit was ordered drawn, on motion of Mr. Crawford.

Articles of agreement between the city and S. W. Castle, embodying the terms of the contract, providing for the emptying of the West Sedalia sewer on Mr. Castle's land, were read and ratified by the council.

Clerk Baker reported that no bids had been received for laying sidewalks on Monticau avenue, Harry or Johnson streets; also none for curbing on Sixteenth street.

One bid for paving East Third street, from Lamine to Hancock avenue, was received, as follows: John Hyatt, $1.34 per square yard. Mr. Hyatt's bid was accepted.

An ordinance repealing a former ordinance, providing for the paving of Fifth street from Ohio to Hancock avenue, was read again, due to the failure of a proper announcement of the passage of the ordinance in the city's "official organ." The ordinance passed.

An ordinance providing for the paving of Fifth street, from Ohio to Hancock avenue, was read and passed.

An ordinance letting the contract for a reconstruction of East Third street was passed.

Mayor Collins called the attention of the council to the prolonged absence from the city of Mrs. W. F. Hansberger, superintendent of the Board of Associated Charities, and asked for instructions regarding the apparent vacancy.

On motion of Mr. DeJarnette, the matter was left in the hands of the mayor and county court for adjustment.

On motion of Mr. DeJarnette, the appointment by Mayor Collins of Charles Dixon as electrical inspector was confirmed.

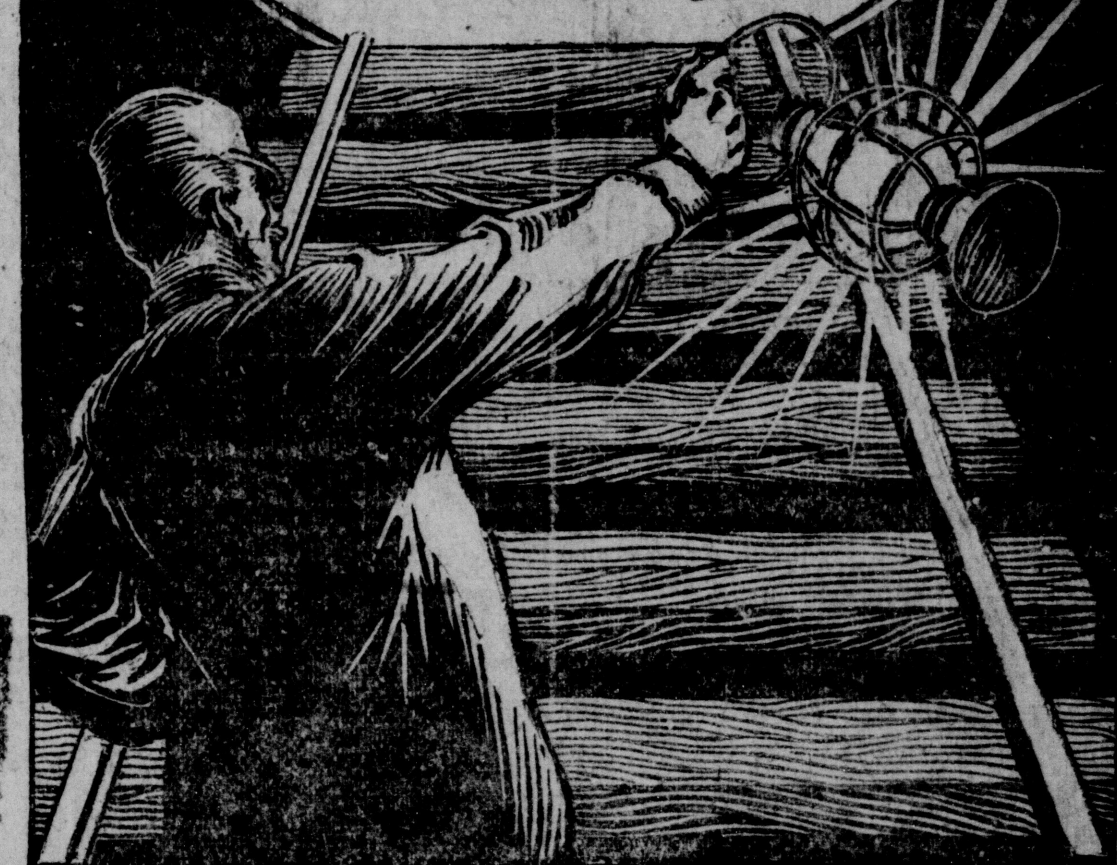

All properly audited bills were allowed, and council adjourned.

RHEUMATISM

BLOOD FILLED WITH URIC ACID

Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid circulating through the system acts as an irritant to the different muscles, nerves, bones and tissues of the body, and produces the inflammation and swelling of the joints and the sharp, cutting pains characteristic of the disease. When the blood is overburdened with uric acid it continually grows weaker and more acid, and poorer in nourishing qualities. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic, and not only a painful, but a formidable and dangerous disease. Sometimes the heart is attacked, the general health is affected, and the oils and fluids which lubricate the muscles and joints are destroyed by the acid matter which the blood is constantly depositing in them; the muscles shrink and lose their elasticity, the coating of the joints becomes hard and thick, and often the sufferer is left a hopeless cripple. S. S. S. attacks the disease at its head, goes down into the circulation, and by neutralizing and removing the uric acid from the circulation and building up the thin, acid blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. changes the sour, acid-burdened blood to a rich, healthy stream, which quiets the excited nerves, eases the throbbing, painful muscles and joints, and filters out of the system the irritating matter which is causing the pain and inflammation. Begin the use of S. S. S. now and get the cause out of your blood. S. S. S. will not keep you in constant pain. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free.

BOOZE IS ISSUE TODAY

VOTE ON LOCAL OPTION QUESTION IN MANY COUNTIES IN ILLINOIS.

IN CHICAGO, SUNDAY SALOON IS UP

The Last Previous Local Option Election Was in November, 1907, When 142 Out of 161 Precincts Voted Dry.

Chicago, April 7.—A determined fight for and against the opening of the Sunday saloons marks the spring election in Chicago today. Voters in other sections of the state will be given an opportunity to decide between the warring factions of the "drys" and "wets."

Leaders in the movement for an open Sunday are jubilant and declare that Chicago will today be "rescued from the reign of hypocrisy." The appearance of a ballot on the Sunday question in today's election was brought about by the United Societies, which collected 13,050 feet of signatures, representing the desires of nearly 170,000 persons to vote upon the question.

The petitions made a pile nearly seven feet in height, and justify the United Societies workers in the hope for a successful termination of their fight.

Local option is the principal issue to be decided by the spring elections in over three-fourths of the 102 Illinois counties. Springfield, the state capital, has been the scene of a hot campaign. The liquor dealers of that city combined to elect a "horrible example" by voluntarily closing all the saloons for a few days in order to show the voters what the city will resemble under the order of things proposed by the Anti-Saloon league workers. The wets are hopeful that this practical illustration will bring about a reversion of sentiment which will send the drys to overwhelming defeat in the election.

Twelve hundred townships and towns are taking part in today's gigantic contest between the forces of "personal liberty" and the opponents of the rum demon. Spirited campaigns have been waged in all of them. Leaders of the Illinois Anti-Saloon league are confidently predicting that from 2,000 to 3,000 saloons will be wiped out in Illinois today.

Today's elections are being held under the provisions of a township, city and village local option law. The last local option elections previously held in the state took place last November, when, out of 161 precincts in the southern part of the state, 142 voted dry. This was heralded as a great victory by the Anti-Saloon league people, and they are hopeful of repeating the victory on a larger scale today.

In this city, the stronghold of the liquor traffic in Illinois, one half of the area is dry territory, saloons having been abolished from all of the principal residence districts.

$100.00 paid by Dr. Shoop for any recent case of grippe or acute cold that a 25 cent box of Preventives will not break. How is this for an offer? The doctor's supreme confidence in these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets—Preventives—is certainly complete. It's $100 against 25 cents—pretty big odds. And preventives, remember, contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were always broken. "What book do you wish to see, ma'am?" asked the polite clerk.

"Kin you find out if Jim Jones was married?"

Search of the records disclosed the name of James Jones, for whose marriage a license had been issued two years before.

"Married Elizabeth Mott, didn't he?" asked the woman.

"The license was issued for a marriage with Miss Elizabeth Mott."

"Well, young man, I'm Elizabeth. I thought I oughter come in an tell ye that Jim has escaped."—Harper's Weekly.

Fish Insensible to Pain.

How sensitive to pain are fish? A correspondent writes: "I have a small pond which is stocked with trout. I keep an accurate account of those I catch and note when I lose any. The other morning a big rainbow trout broke the worm hook with which I had hooked him! That evening I hooked and landed a good trout, also with worm tackle, which proved to be my friend of the morning, as right down in his stomach was the broken gut and hook, and, besides this, in his lip was a March brook fly hook which, according to my fishing hook, must have been there many weeks. A fish with a fly hook in his mouth, a worm hook in his stomach and ready to gulp down bait must be quite impervious to what we mortals call pain."

The Washington estate had just been named Mount Vernon in honor of Admiral Vernon of the British navy. "You'll have to stand for it, George," said Maj. Lawrence Washington to his younger brother. George said nothing, but his face instantly assumed that stern, commanding expression so familiar to all of us in the patriot on the two cent postage stamp.

DELAWARE REPUBLICANS

Assemble for What Promises to Be Exciting Convention.

Dover, Del., April 7.—Republicans assembled here today in what promises to be one of the most exciting conventions in years.

A movement to instruct the delegation for Taft has been started, but many of the party leaders are in favor of an uninstructed delegation.

The state convention, which consists of 100 delegates, will select four delegates-at-large and two delegates from the congressional district of Delaware to the republican national convention at Chicago.

By party custom one of these shall be from rural New Castle county, two from Kent county and two from Sussex.

HAD THE DOWRY FIGURED IN.

Youthful Suitor wit. Well-Developed Head for Finance.

There is a young fellow in Pittsburgh who will undoubtedly "get along," although, as yet, he has not succeeded in amassing vast wealth. In fact, he receives a weekly wage of $15. He is, however, an extremely good-looking and entertaining young man, and not long ago succeeded in making such an impression upon the daughter of a well-to-do manufacturer that it was decided between them that he "should ask papa." This he proceeded to do, and to his surprise was received not unkindly.

"Well, let's see, my boy," the old man remarked, pushing up his glasses. "What is your annual income?"

"Well, sir, I should estimate it at $2,000," the young man replied.

"Well—not so bad, not so bad," the old man said. "That added to her interest at four per cent. on the $50,000 I have always said I would settle upon Mary at her marriage would give you $4,000. You should be able to get along."

"Well, sir, to tell the truth," the young man interrupted, "I took the liberty of figuring that interest into my estimate."—Harper's Weekly.

RAISING MONEY FOR CHARITY.

Novel Schemes by Which Large Sums Have Been Gathered.

Times may be hard for all classes this year, but certainly charitable entertainments have never been more enthusiastically undertaken nor more zealously carried out than has been the case during the season just past. Charity balls have ever been a popular way of inducing those not otherwise generously inclined to part with a few of their almighty dollars for the good of the masses, performances of some play or opera that is the rage of the moment have before this year been given with all surplus from the exorbitant price demanded for entrance and seats handed over to some worthy institution or organization.

In England, however, the climax was capped this year by the duchess of Sunderland, who demanded a shilling for each glass of champagne doled out at a large dinner, and the money, of course, was devoted to charity. So lucrative did the dinner prove that the sudden inspiration was at once imitated, quickly became a fad, and from that is now almost a custom among popular hostesses in London.

Danger of Wood Pulp Cargo.

Abnormal stormy weather prevailing on the North Atlantic during last November and December was responsible for many fatal accidents to small vessels. Seven men—the survivors of a crew of 16—who were picked up in the Atlantic after drifting eight days in an open boat, tell a tragic story of the loss of their ship. She was bound from Nova Scotia to England laden with wood pulp, and after fighting storms for a fortnight lost her masts, sprang a leak and drifted helplessly. For two days the men pumped, knowing all the time that it was merely a matter of time before the gaining water would be sucked up by the pulp, which would swell like a sponge and burst the vessel's seams. At last the end came and the men took to the boats as the vessel went down.

French Words Used by English.

Few people among those who object to the English habit of employing words like naïveté or ennui because they are French are conscious how many words in the most common English usage have been taken from the French language. Prof. Lounsbury of Yale, in Harper's Magazine, directs attention to no less striking examples than the words chagrin, ridicule, folie, trait, etc. An additional point about the word trait, one that will surprise the American, is that in English it is pronounced without the final t, as in French, and is so sanctioned by the dictionaries. The reader will be amused to learn in this article how an eighteenth century critic spoke of the French words "amateur" and "escort" in English usage as "disgracing and deforming the language."

Every Bird a Weathercock.

"Where's the wind?" scoffed the sailor. "Why, look at the birds—they'll tell you. Don't you know that every bird's a weathercock? Stop mosey'n' your finger and holdin' it up," he went on, in a tone of disgust. "The practice ain't hardly digust. Look at the birds as all you got to do, for every bird's with its head al-

Open Publicity

Insures a fair, square and honest deal. It characterizes the policy of Dr. Pierce as relates to the composition of his time-proven and most popular medicines. Their ingredients are on each bottle-wrapper, attested under oath and printed in plain English. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments and sold by druggists, the makers of which publish on each bottle-wrapper what the medicine contains.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol, and no narcotics or other harmful or habit-forming drugs, as will be seen from its published ingredients. It contains only such native, medicinal roots as are most highly recommended by leading medical writers and practitioners of all the several schools of practice, for the cure of woman's delicate and peculiar ailments. It is safe for women to take in any condition of the system, as it assists Nature in restoring the healthful action of all the organs distinctly feminine.

Nature's own cure. In fact, "Favorite Prescription" is Nature's own cure for the many derangements and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is advised for no other diseases.

If you are a weak, tired, nervous, over-worked, broken-down, pain-racked woman, either young, old or middle-aged, suffering from frequent headaches, backaches, dizziness or fainting spells, gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps see imaginary specks, or dark spots floating before the eyes, have dragging-down or heavy feeling in lower abdomen, or pelvic region, with, perhaps, pelvic catarrh, or other symptoms of functional or organic affections of the distinctly feminine organs, then you will make no mistake if you resort to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The most advanced medical science knows no better agents for the cure of all such diseases than are happily and harmoniously combined in this widely-famed "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce.

You can't afford to accept any secret nostrum of unknown composition and of questionable merit as a substitute for this professionally endorsed and time-tested remedy of known composition, simply that some unprincipled dealer may make a little larger profit. Don't expect it to perform miracles but give it a fair, persevering trial and it is not likely to disappoint you. It won't "dissolve tumors"—no medicine will. It will cure a larger percentage of all curable ailments which especially afflict womanhood than any other medicine sold by druggists for that purpose.

As to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery it has a very large range of application, yet it is by no means recommended as a "Cure-All." It possesses marvelous alternative, or blood cleansing, properties and is at the same time a most invigorating tonic, or strength giver. It exerts a specific, cleansing, soothing and healing effect upon all the lining mucous membranes of the system; hence, its great curative value in all catarrhal affections, no matter where located.

In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the passages two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid, while persisting in the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery" for its blood cleansing and specific curative effects upon the diseased mucous membranes. It will cure a very large range of diseases, as eczema, salt-rheum, and other skin affections in all of which it has made remarkable cures; also in scrofulous sores and old, open ulcers, or eating sores. To heal the latter, use Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve as a local application, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to correct the blood and cleanse the system. A box will be mailed to any address on receipt of fifty-four cents in stamps. If your druggist don't have it in stock, address Dr. Pierce, as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original Little Liver Pills, first put up by Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. Easy to take as candy.

ways straight at one wind. Every live bird in a tree is as reliable a weathercock as them dead birds on the spires what is so much considered in this here season."

Explained.

"Yes," said Mrs. Dresser, "Miss Dowdley is a dear soul."

"I often wonder," said her husband, "why it is that all you women like her so much."

"Well, you see, she always wears such plain gowns and bonnets. She never has anything to make us envious."

Sunday School Lesson.

Two girls returning from Sunday school in the country were discussing their progress in the shorter catechism.

"I am past original sin," said one.

The other immediately responded: "Oh, I am farther on than you, for I'm past redemption."

German Schoolboy Victim of Father's Misunderstanding.

The Katholische Schul-Zeitung of Berlin tells this story to justify its indorsement of the imperial order against the use of foreign words: "At one of the high schools the scholars were ordered to appear before a committee of ophthalmologists for examination, with a view to correcting defects in vision and arresting the progress of eye troubles. One scholar received from the head master a note for his father which read: 'To-day's examination showed that your son Fritz is predisposed to myopia. Something must be done with him.' Next morning Fritz appeared with this note for the head master: 'As soon as I read your note of yesterday, for which I thank you, I gave Fritz a sound thrashing, which, I hope, will do him good. If he ever does the same thing again let me know.' The school authorities have been instructed to use 'shortsighted' instead of 'myopia,' hereafter."

HARVARD'S BALL CLUB

HAS ARRANGED A SCHEDULE OF TWENTY-SEVEN GAMES FOR THIS SEASON.

THE FIRST CONTEST IS TOMORROW

Fast Team of Wesleyan College Will Play the Crimson on the Cambridge Grounds—The Schedule for the Year.

Cambridge, Mass., April 7.—Determined to maintain the prestige it won on the diamond last year, the Crimson nine will open the baseball season tomorrow.

The fast team of Wesleyan college, which in the past has given Harvard some hard tussles will oppose the Crimson on the Cambridge grounds in tomorrow's contest.

Harvard will play twenty-seven games this year. Two new games have been added to the schedule, Georgetown and Fordham, while Columbia and West Point have been dropped.

The game with Georgetown University at Washington will mark the resumption of athletic relations with that institution, broken off some years ago because Harvard played a colored man on its team.

In case of ties with Yale and Princeton, the extra games will be played in New York. The complete schedule is as follows:

April 8, Wesleyan at Cambridge; April 11, Vermont at Cambridge; April 15, Bowdoin at Cambridge; April 18, Fordham at Cambridge; April 21, Annapolis at Annapolis; April 23, Annapolis at Annapolis; April 25, Georgetown at Washington; April 28, Bates at Cambridge; April 29, Exeter at Cambridge; April 30, Maine at Cambridge; May 2, Holy Cross at Worcester; May 6, Williams at Cambridge; May 9, Cornell at Ithaca; May 13, Amherst at Cambridge; May 16, Princeton at Cambridge; May 19, Dartmouth at Hanover; May 20, Andover at Cambridge; May 23, Princeton at Princeton; May 27, Princeton at New York (in case of tie); May 30, Brown at Providence; June 3, Brown at Cambridge; June 6, Dartmouth at Cambridge; June 10, Cornell at Cambridge; June 13, Holy Cross at Cambridge; June 18, Yale at Cambridge; June 23, Yale at New Haven; June 27, Yale at New York (in case of tie).

Price of Meat Raised in Australia.
Owing to the abundance and cheapness of meat in Australia restaurant keepers have for years been able to give astonishingly liberal meals for 12 cents. But they are not satisfied with the margin of profit and they have decided in conference to raise the price to 14 cents. One of the reasons assigned for this step is the "abnormal appetites" of their customers. It is the hospitable custom in Australia popular restaurants not to charge for a second helping of anything, and you can have as many cups of tea as you please after having paid for the first one. It is the freedom with which this privilege—unknown in America—is exercised that cuts down the profits.

Watches for the Blind.
On the face of one of the latest watches designed for the use of blind people the hours are indicated by movable buttons in relief on the dial. A strong pointer shows the minutes. The blind person passes his finger over the dial; the button indicating the hour he finds to be depressed, while the position of the hand gives the minutes. The buttons are held by a circular plate beneath the dial, which has at the point on its circumference a notch into which the buttons drop, one after the other, as the plate revolves with the movement of the works. This plate serves instead of the ordinary hour hand of a watch.

Song of the Shirt.
When Thomas Hood wrote his "Song of the Shirt" conditions in London were far worse than they have ever been in New York. Our horrible sweatshop system is not a circumstance to the slopshop system of the English capital, says the New York Press. Hood and a party of friends discovered two young women, daughters of Maj. Reynolds of the Fifth West India regiment, utterly unprovided for at his death, trying to preserve their existence by making shirts for a slopshop at three cents each. Public attention was drawn to the case, and a subscription raised in their behalf. The "Song of the Shirt" was inspired by it.

Bright Spot Too Infrequently Found by Workers Among the Poor.

"Here's one of the bright spots in charity work," Agent Gustav Frelson said one afternoon recently to a Milwaukee Free Press reporter as he handed out a letter he had just received.

The superscription on the envelope read: "Dear Mailman, please give this to Mr. Frilson of the Poor, from Billy Unertl," and it was written in childish characters, painfully precise. This is the letter:

"Dear Mr. Frilson, please give this to that poor lady on fifth street for Billy; that one that had to send her boy out to steal milk and rolls. 'My mama just read about a poor family who had nothing to eat and had to send their boy out barefooted to steal milk and I felt so sorry for you that I will send you one dollar which my uncle George sent me for candy. you can buy something to eat, my mama will send you something to eat and some clothes so I thought you would be very happy if I sent you the money. I wish your mother would send us that little baby for I am sure that we would be good to it. My little sister would be glad to play with her. Let me know how much you want for it. ### HIS METHODS GOT THE MONEY.

Portland Character a Very Effective Bill Collector.

A queer old character who in his 85 years of life had been cursed probably more than any other man in Portland, Ore., was buried in the potter's field a short time ago, although Sir William McDonald of Toronto, Ontario, a wealthy manufacturer, is his brother. The dead man is "Jimmie" McDonald, who for the last 20 years had kept body and soul together from small commissions in collecting dead-beat bills.

McDonald's age and general disreputable appearance naturally prevented him from using the methods of present-day collectors, but he got the money oftener than any of them. His system was to stand in front of the house or office of the debtor and ring a cow bell. Pedestrians would stop in wonderment. Others would come strolling up, thinking an auction was to take place. Meanwhile McDonald would nonchalantly ring the bell till some one would inquire the cause.

"Oh," he would reply, "there's a man in there who owes a bill and is trying to beat it."

Another of his terrifying methods was to hail debtors when out in company, singing this unapologetic distich: "The shortest day is drawing nigh, And unless you pay every bill you owe, You can never wear a golden crown."

Many times he was tounded, but times without number he got the money.

A light heart and healthy stomach makes rosy cheeks and a cheerful soul. Bread made of the "Pride of Perry" flour produces these results.

Cervantes wrote: "There were but two families in the world: Have-Much and Have-Little."

Want Advertising Introduces the Have-Much Family to the Have-Little Family

The "Have-Little" family is not always "poorer" than the "Have-Much" folks. Often the "little" that they have is what is most needed and wanted by the other people—and this fact creates a market for their "little." The want ads, of course, act as "brokers" in making the introductions.

Since Cervantes lived, the gulf between the "Have-Much" and the "Have-Little" families has been bridged over—and the bridge is the result of MUTUAL HUMAN INTERESTS. Want advertising brings the two families to a common market-place. And they find that each has something which the other wants.

Test of the Housekeeper.

Some one fond of generalizing has said that the conditions of the window reveal the character of the housekeeper. A small quantity of water with alcohol in it is recommended as the best medium for window cleaning, with a newspaper rub afterward. A dry clean for a window may be made with liquid whiting spread over it, and there are numerous substances sold for the purpose that make it possible to keep the windows so clean that even an indifferent housekeeper may get the credit of being a better one by virtue of her clean windows.

By Appointment.

In the dim-lit drawing room on a keen winter's night sat Sweet Seventeen, smiling entrancingly at Ardent Twenty-One. Sweet Seventeen was uncommonly bewitching and Ardent Twenty-One appallingly earnest.

Gazing intently into the gold-red heart of the great log fire that blazed cheerfully in the grate, he poured forth his passionate address. "How divine!" murmured Sweet Seventeen.

But the young man frowned and started.

"How divine! My dearest Hilary!"

"Hilary?" he said. "You mean George, pet, do you not?"

The maiden flushed and bit her lip.

"Oh, dear," she said, "how foolish of me! I was thinking that this was Saturday night!"—Tid-Bits.

BIG BUZZ WAGON PARADE

IT IS BOOKED TO TAKE PLACE ON NEW YORK CITY STREETS THIS EVENING.

TO BE THE EVENT OF THE CARNIVAL.

At Least Four Thousand Cars Are Expected to Be in Line, and the Sight Will Be One Never to Be Forgotten.

New York, April 7.—Practically every owner of a "buzz-wagon" in the greater city is today engaged in putting the finishing touches on his car, in order to participate in tonight's great automobile parade, the most brilliant feature of motor carnival week.

The line of parade, especially along "automobile row," has been brilliantly decorated and tonight will blossom out with a myriad of colored lights. Hotels are thronged with spectators from other cities, eager to witness the spectacle, and windows along the line of march are at a premium. The pageant promises to be the most brilliant ever held since the invention of the automobile.

The parade will assemble at 56th street and Broadway, the various divisions forming in the side streets west of Broadway. Headed by the historical section which will include old cars of all types, with many of the cars entered in the Briarcliff race to furnish a contrast, the parade will move down Broadway to 25th street. Then the line of march will be up 57th street, to Broadway again, north to Broadway to 110th street, and then back on the west side of Broadway to Columbus circle, where the parade will disband.

The counter-march feature on Broadway from Fifty-ninth to 110th street will give the occupants of cars in the line of march an opportunity to see one hundred and two solid blocks of the parade itself.

The first division, on Fifty-seventh street, will enter Broadway promptly at 7:30 o'clock, and will be followed closely by the other three divisions lying on Fifty-sixth, Fifty-fifth and Fifty-fourth streets.

Altogether, at least five thousand cars are expected in line. There will be cars in some particular color scheme. There will be foreign cars decked in the colors of the land they hail from; there will be cars made in half the states of the Union, with their decorative schemes devised from the colors or insignia of those states. There will be big cars and little cars, full cars and empty cars, but all will be worth looking at, and there will be plenty to look at them.

Four judges will make the awards in the decorated section. Colgate Hoyt, president of the Automobile Club of America; Robert Lee Morrell, chairman of the Briarcliff race committee; D. C. B. Parker, president of the Long Island Automobile club, and A. R. Shattuck, ex-president of the Automobile Club of America, are the men who will judge the cars in this section. Their work is sure to be difficult, but their impartiality is equally certain.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, and another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, and the doctor, the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, "A disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless. Its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, worn-out, run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and removing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

A WAY THEY HAVE

What This Sedalia Citizen Says Only Corroborates the Story of Thousands.

The particulars related by this representative citizen of Sedalia are similar to hundreds of others in this city. When there are scores of people, all anxious to tell about the benefits received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, the greatest skeptic in Sedalia must be convinced. Read the following:

M. C. Culley, railroad foreman, living at 512 East Fourth street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "I gave my testimony endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago. My confidence in that remedy remains unchanged. At that time I procured a supply at the W. E. Bard Drug Co. and have used them since for backache and rheumatic pains in my shoulders. They promptly respond whenever I take them. Doan's Kidney Pills in my case proved to be the best backache and kidney medicine I ever used."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"Drys" Had 195 Majority.

The county court met in Fayette Monday and counted the votes cast in the local option election in Howard county last Saturday, and found that the majority was 195 instead of 315 as first reported.

If you would like to fool some wise coffee critic, who "knows fine coffee on taste and flavor," quietly make for him a batch of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" and serve it piping hot. It deceived Mrs. Shoop, and will I believe deceive any one. And there is not a grain of real coffee in it. Health Coffee is made from pure roasted grains, malt, nuts, etc. Made in a minute—no 20 to 30 minutes tedious boiling; 1½ pounds, 25c. R. C. Dolph & Co.

Warranted to Keep.

The playful element was never entirely absent from the late Prof. Drummond's class in natural science at Edinburgh university, and Dr. T. Hunter Boyd, in his book, "Henry Drummond," ascribes its frequent cropping out to the professor's own sense of humor, which encouraged naturalness.

On one occasion Prof. Drummond announced that unfortunately he could not meet the class next day, as he had an important engagement. The students heard that he was absent on account of his sister's wedding.

On the day following, when a geological specimen was passed round the class, it was prominently labeled: "Drummond's wedding-cake."

It is said that the professor was as quietly appreciative as any member of the class.—Youth's Companion.

You will never know how good bread you can make until you try a "Pride of Perry" flour. All first-class grocers sell it and recommend it.

NEGROES OPPOSE TAFT

THIS OUGHT TO HELP HIM OUT WITH SOME GOOD PEOPLE, THOUGH.

'JOE' FORAKER OUGHT TO BE THERE

The Black Man Also Takes a Share at the President of the United States, Who Will Likely Survive the Shock.

Philadelphia, April 7.—Negro bishops, editors and other leaders of the race met here today in what is called a "national convention," and will go on record as opposing President Roosevelt's administration and Secretary Taft's candidacy for the presidency.

The leaders in the movement are Bishop Alexander Walters, of the African Methodist Zion church; the Rev. Dr. William H. Scott, president of the Negro Suffrage league, and William Monroe Trotter, president of the New England Constitution and Suffrage league. President Roosevelt's actions are denounced as "a flagrant collusion between a republican president and the southern democrats." Among the denunciatory statements of the leaders in today's convention are the following:

"The positive and notorious hostile attitude of the government of our republic toward its citizens of color under the present republican administration and the approach of the party nomination conventions in the year 1908 produce a crisis for one-eighth of the citizenship of these United States of America."

"The open alliance between the president and the nullifiers of the constitution in the south constitutes the most flagrant collusion between a republican president and the southern democrats since the emancipation of the American slaves forty-five years ago, save in the case of Andrew Johnson at the close of the war, or of Rutherford B. Hayes at the close of reconstruction."

"But it has remained for the present chief executive of the United States to prescribe in official documents an inferior grade of education for one class of citizens, and to brand that class as conspirators of criminals and rapists; while the detaining and discharging in disgrace of more than a hundred soldiers, all colored, without trial or chance to be heard in their own defense, is a denial upon colored citizens unprecedented in our country's history."

"The placing of the nation's sanction upon the segregation of citizens for and because of color in public travel but completes the federal maltreatment of the colored citizen under the present administration, leaving him stripped of rights, branded and in contempt."

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World

is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the up-to-date quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

Remember that when the stomach nerves fail or weaken, Dyspepsia or Indigestion must always follow. But, strengthen these same weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and then see how quickly health will again return. Weak heart and kidney nerves can also be strengthened with the restorative, where heart pains, palpitation or kidney weakness is found. Don't drug the stomach, nor stimulate the heart or kidneys.
